NATIONAL SKIN CENTRE
National Healthcare Group

Care Management for People with Scabies

Introduction

Scabies is an extremely itchy and contagious skin condition caused by mites. It can spread quickly in areas where people are in close physical contact, sharing the same bed or clothing. It is one of the most common skin diseases affects the young children and the older, hospitalised or institutionalised people due to various factors.

Presenting symptom is widespread itching and a pimple like skin rash that may affect various areas of the body. Scratching predisposes to secondary bacterial infection.

This course aims to equip nurses with knowledge and dermatological skills to perform care and managing people with scabies to prevent it spreads. A half day clinical attachment with hands on experience on skin scrapping will be provided.

28 March 2023 (Tuesday)

1pm-5pm

NSC Room 402, Level 4

28 March 2023
(Theory Only - 0.5 Day)
5 April 2023
(Practical & Assessment - 0.5 Day)

Programme Highlights

1.00pm	Clinical Management Of Scabies Dr. Lim Hua Liang, Joel, Consultant (Hybrid)
2.00pm	Nursing Care Management Of People With Scabies Ms Cindy Choi, Nurse Clinician
2.45pm	Counselling On Transmission And Prevention Of Scabies Ms Cindy Choi, Nurse Clinician
3.00pm	Break
3.15pm	Skin Scrape : The Pitfalls And Findings In The Laboratory Mr Syed Hud Alkaff, Medical Technologist
3.30pm	Practical Session + Video Demonstration on how to perform skin scraping on : • Scabies – Mr Syed Hud Alkaff, Medical Technologist • Return demonstration by participants
4.45pm	Debrief / Evaluation
5.00pm	End of session

Competency Assessment

- Learners are required to complete three passes in competency assessments over a period of 2 weeks after post training.
- Repeat course training if participant do not meet the requirements.
- Practicum date will be advised to the participants/institutions separately once confirmed.

Course Fees

$250 (NHG staff) $300 (Non-NHG staff)

Price is subjected to 8%GST*

Closing Date for Registration: 17 March 2023

Registration Form:- https://form.gov.sg/63eb309446e5150012bd51bb . For any queries pls email to nursetraining@nsc.com.sg